A leader in the state of South Carolina for the comprehensive treatment for children and adolescents who have experienced emotional, physical and sexual trauma, CYDC serves the community with residential care facilities that provide temporary or long-term care and treatment. The four facilities include the Charleston Emergency Shelter (CES), Ledford House, Callen-Lacey Center for Children (CCLC) and NuHouse. NuHouse serves youth transitioning from foster care into adulthood.

While at CYDC, children are not only provided with a safe and supportive environment that helps introduce normalcy and consistency into their daily lives and activities, they also receive important trauma-informed assessment and support services designed to address each child's individual educational, emotional, physical and social needs. #### Community-Based Services

Family-Centered Community Support Services (FCCSS) involves a collaborative partnership with the Department of Social Services and multiple community partners to create a system of care to address instability in the family system to support some 10,000 families state-wide. This project aims to strengthen natural support within families through prevention and supportive services. Community-Based Services focuses on addressing conditions that affect stability and well-being, such as poverty, youth parental age, relational issues, parental or child disabilities, increasing the risk of neglect and abuse. The program targets families exhibiting many of these conditions with proactive and prevention services while building protective capacities with sustainable resources. The program consists of a comprehensive array of concrete services that focus on improving family conditions.

The Bakker Career Center and CYDC Center for Life are located on the North Charleston campus and provide educational and job skills training as well as enrichment activities like music, art and recreation to CYDC residents and youth in the community. Without family support to provide these experiences, residents and neighboring youth count on CYDC to guide and help them develop. Programming includes partnerships with local job training programs, artists, volunteer mentors and area businesses.

Teen After-School Center

CYDC partners with the South Carolina Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) to host a community Teen After-School Center (TASC). This nationally recognized program is specifically designed to improve youth social/emotional/behavioral health while preventing involvement in the juvenile justice system or likelihood of incarceration. In the program youth are served with structured time, activities, and supervision between the end of the school day and when parents return from work.
